physical therapy,
it’s getting better faster
that matters to me.”

Osteopathic Manipulation

Osteopathic manipulation is a treatment process where a series of manual maneuvers and techniques are performed to relieve tight joints and muscles. Osteopathic manipulation is often said to be specifically effective for conditions that have persisted for some time.

Forms of Osteopathic Manipulation and treatment techniques include: Greenman muscle-energy technique; strain-counter strain technique; myofascial release; and mobilization (high-velocity, low-amplitude technique).
